BITCOIN INCOME & GROWTH'S CERTIFICATE PROCESS

- The certificate bears a CH ISIN number.
- The certificate allocates monies into the underlying fund on a monthly basis. The trades on the crypto market as well as on the option markets occur once a month. This trade date is always the last Friday of each calendar month when options expire.
- The fund NAV is aimed to be published by the fund administrator within 5 business days following the last Friday of the month (the trading day).
- Subscriptions are opened over a 3-day period following the publication of the underlying fund's NAV. This translates into an investment period starting about 5 business days after the last month trade date. After this period is closed, investors will have to wait until the next month's investable period.

Ex: Investors' funds received in the investable period of January, will follow the following month change of NAV but will not participate in the dividend for the past month investors. They will be invested in the certificate in January which tracks the fund performance (so change of next month NAV will occur to January investors), but as their funds have not yet been transferred into the underlying fund, January investors will not have a dividend for the month of January, because this one will be allocated to investors of the previous month.
